

BALTIMORE BEAD SOCIETY WINTER SHOW – JANUARY 20-21, 2018

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: The Baltimore Bead Society (BBS) presents its 11th Winter Bead and Jewelry Show on January 20-21, 2018 at the Howard County Fairgrounds, 2210 Fairgrounds Rd., West Friendship, MD 21794. The show will run on Saturday from 10-5pm and Sunday from 10-4pm. Jewelry makers and crafters will find a wide variety of supplies from many of the top vendors. Artisans and designers will showcase beautiful finished jewelry highlighting a unique blend of skill and original artistic design as well as a variety of jewelry components to be made into your own one-of-a-kind jewelry. Approximately 100 tables will be displaying these products.

Classes will be offered each day covering basic jewelry-making to advanced techniques. Pop-up demos will be featured concurrently during both days of the show.

The BBS is a non-profit organization, holding monthly meetings where interesting and dynamic artisans show their work, their process, and what inspires them. The last few years have seen an amazing growth in our membership as more and more people are developing a desire and passion for making jewelry. The BBS provides many educational opportunities including programs, workshops, and classes for those wanting to learn traditional and new jewelry techniques.

For further information about the BBS's 2018 Winter Show, please contact Debbi Fowlkes, 410.750.0419, Claire Jefferson, 410.409.1879, or Cheryl Tarver 443.707.9138. You can also visit our website www.baltimorebead.org to learn more about the Baltimore Bead Society and information about the upcoming Winter Bead Show including admission cost.

Debbi Fowlkes – President/Show Co-Chair

Fran Pearlman – Show Co-Chair

PLEASE NOTE: Founded over 26 years ago, the BBS is a nonprofit educational, artistic, and philanthropic organization under IRS section 501(c)(3).